Beecher used a lot of nasty tactics such as sneaking in punches on the break and tying up Chaney's arms in the climches. Chaney in justice to himself had to resort to some rough stuff, yoo. It was all right with Beecher as long as he got away with it, but he was much offended at Chaney's employment of anything which was not strictly according to the rule book. The bout was decided a draw, a decision at which Chaney could have no kick. Split finely Beecher deserved the decision. Jack Sharkey showed up for his bout with Joe Burman, the bantam from Chicago, in poor condition. He hadn't gone a round before he was puffing like the well known porpoise. Burman started like a young cyclone and but it all over Jack in the first round After that up to the fifth, Sharkey sought wildly and in spots. ### J. B. Smith Buys the Oxnard Yearlings.

James B. Smith of California, a newcomer to racing, has taken up the sport on a big scale.

He bought thirty yearlings yesterday from H. T. Oxnard for a price said to be $75,000, and when shipped from the farm they will be turned over to H. T. Griffin, once a trainer of much prominence but who has been in retirement for several years.

Tommy Griffin knows horses, and the youngsters which will come under his hands are good looking enough and well bred enough to justify the prediction that the Smith colors will be reasonably prominent next year.
